Donations To School Trust Tax Deductible

All donations to the Carmel School Trust Fund are tax deductible, Shelburn Robison, attorney for the trust, announced Tuesday. He has obtained tax deductible clearance from both state and federal income tax agencies for the educational trust.

Persons who wish to donate to the trust may send funds to Frederick K. Duhring, the fund's secretary treasurer, care of the Carmel office of Wells Fargo Bank. Other officers of the trust fund are Dudley Swim, chairman, Dr. Robert R. Aurner, Harold C. Arnot, and Annette Zang Thorn.

The money donated will be distributed to the board of education of the Carmel Unified School District for educational purposes only. The board's procedure will be to make requests for funds for specific and special educational needs, Robison stated.

The trust fund was proposed as a financial aid to the school district following the failure of an override tax last Spring, also as a means of raising funds for the education of the children of the district other than by levying a property tax.

TREE BURNING ON BEACH TONIGHT

The annual All Saints' Church Christmas tree and greens burning on Carmel Beach will be held tonight immediately after the 5:15 service of Evensong in the parish church. The custom of burning the trees on the eve of Epiphany arose from an old Norse custom of a mid-winter bonfire to hasten the coming of the sun. This ceremony medieval Christians took over as being a practical way of disposing of their holiday greenery. This custom has been kept in Carmel for some years.

Monster Motels Concern Norberg

At the request of Councilman Gunnar Norberg, the council will reconsider controlling the bulk and size of business district buildings, also motel construction, following a report on these matters by the planning commission.

Norberg used the 166-unit motel being built across from Mission Fields as the reason for asking that these matters be reconsidered. He said any such "behemoth monster motel," in Carmel was undesirable and a move towards making the city "the bedroom of the world."

Council Herbert Blanks remarked that the four-story motel was outside the city limits and that Carmel's laws restricted the building of such a development.

"There has been too much heat and not enough light on the matter," he declared in respect to previous reports on the bulk and size and motel controls proposed in city council reports, but the reports did contain points worthy of consideration and, therefore, a planning commission report was desirable.

Councilman Eben Whittlesey, who had worked with Norberg on the council reports, was in favor of "slightly more restrictive provisions" in the citys' control law.

"I am not satisfied that in the long run it will prove to be sufficient . . . so far it has had no test of its validity," he emphasized.

POLICE OFFICERS TRAIN

Last night, Police Chief Clyde Klaumann accepted a plaque presented to the city by the California Commission of Peace Officer Standards and Training. The presentation was made by Jim Hicks, retired Sacramento police commissioner. The plaque signifies that Carmel police meet requirements of the state commission.

New Appointees To Commissions

Considerable turnover in membership of the arts and forestry commissions resulted last night when the council approved appointments proposed by Mayor Stephen Grant.

Expiration of the terms of Mrs. Marjorie Wurzmann and Gene Elmore, neither of whom wished to be reappointed, also the resignation of Chairman Geza St. Galy, left three vacancies on the arts commission. These were filled by the appointment of Mrs. Mausita Jennings, Robert H. Evans and James Kramer. Continuing members are Mrs. Barbara Norberg, Mrs. Patricia Faul, Donald Teague and Joseph Danysh. Mrs. Jennings has been active for many years in local musical organizations including being a director of the Bach Festival, Carmel Music Society and Monterey County Symphony Association. Robert Evans, owner of the Studio Theatre and Restaurant, has a background of community work in theatre arts in Louisiana. James Kramer, an architect, is active in the Sierra Club.

New members of the forestry commission are Donn Paul Medalie and Bernard Anderson. The latter has served as an executive of the U. S. Forest Service in Washington, D. C. and with the United Nations. The new appointees fill vacancies left by the moving to Redding of Richard Hittinger Jr. and the desire of Dr. Robert Strum not to be reappointed. Dr. Ferdinand Haasis, Wallace Doolittle and Gene Ricketts were reappointed to the forestry commission.

The council approved the reappointment to the Harrison Memorial Library Board of Donald Craig, former city councilman and instructor in Spanish at Carmel High School. Appointed to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Jerome Werner was Mrs. Richard M. Sippel, the former Patricia Ricketts, a graduate of Carmel High School who also was an instructor in the school's business department and is currently active in the high school American Field Service student exchange program.

WEATHER

Occasional rain probably with gusty winds up to 20 mph. The week end could still be good to the golfers. Night temperatures as low as 35 and days up to the 60s.

Annexation Election

Two Mission Tract annexation items met with favorable action of the city council last night. Approved and referred to the planning commission was the request for annexation of a five-lot parcel fronting on Santa Lucia, with three lots east of Monte Verde and two south, requested by William Harold Oliver, Mrs. Storey Wright, Olof and Jean Dahlstrand.

Approval was given, too, to a special annexation election on April 18 so that 58 residents in an 8.7-acre area, bounded by Rio Road, Santa Lucia and Dolores streets and the back line of lots on Franciscan Way, may vote on joining the city. Set, also, was a public hearing on February 8 so that protests to the annexation, in writing, may be considered by the council. If such protests represent half of the property value of the land involved, owned by 34 property owners, a second hearing will be set.

Council Hires New Planning Director

On January 16 Carmel will have a new planning director as the result of a decision of the city council made in executive session on December 29. He is John J. Riling Jr., who leaves the position of senior planner in charge of master planning for the County of Monterey to take the Carmel job vacated by the retirement of Floyd Adams. He also has been county planning staff representative and ex-officio secretary to the Monterey Peninsula Area Planning Commission. Before moving to California, Riling was principal city planner of Kansas City, Missouri. He was granted a B. S. degree by the University of Kansas in 1954. His salary will be $754 a month.

Floyd Adams Is Honored By City

A resolution and plaque was presented to Carmel's retired planning director last night by the city council as an expression of the council's and citizens' "deep and sincere appreciation of all that Floyd Adams has contributed to his city during 26 years of service." This service included 24 years as building inspector and two as director of planning. The council presented Floyd's wife, Gwen, with a bouquet of pink carnations as a token of appreciation for the support she has given her husband.

Then the city turned to regular business and accepted the bid of Spencer's House of Cards, $4,992, to provide furniture for the city's new police station and corporation yard facility. Accepted, too, was the bid of American Seating Company, $581.57, to provide 48 stacking chairs. The furniture bid met all detailed specifications.

Six years of consideration of noise and nuisance complaints by citizens in the vicinity of the P. G. & E. substation at Junipero and Second hopefully came to an end last night when a report by City Attorney William Burleigh stated that substation noise is no greater than traffic noise in the same area. However, it was his opinion that two banks of transformers, also steel towers, in the substation were illegal installations and the company, therefore, was liable for legal action by the city. He recommended landscaping and fencing of the substation site. Remedy of the illegalities could, he stated, be accomplished by the P. G. & E. which has been reasonable and cooperative and possibly would take measures to eliminate any suit being brought by the city.

Action on granting a new 20 year franchise to Alarm Corporation for television cable service in the city was postponed a month. The company wishes to place all service underground and Councilmen Herbert Blanks and William Sefton, the committee working on this matter, favor overhead service which would not scarify streets and provide better viewing.

The council voted to pay a $15 fence damage claim against the city presented by Shelburn Robison, attorney for Mrs. Fanon B. Wheeler. Approved was a cooperative paving project between the city and property owners for Santa Rita Street between Ocean and Sixth avenues. Ratified was the appointment of Robert P. Spencer, August Nieto, Anthony Vasconcellos, Geraldine Smith, James C. Doud, William H. Godwin Jr. and Earl Moser to work with Councilman Sefton on a special parking committee. Approved, too, was the service of Mark Raggett on this body when Mrs. Smith could not be present.

Second reading and adoption was given the new tree cutting ordinance.

NEW DEPARTMENT HEAD

Dr. Peter L. Besag of Carmel, right, is congratulated on his promotion to manager of the mathematics and computer programming department by the director of Litton Scientific Support Laboratory, Ralph B. Neal, left. Dr. Besag has been associated with Litton as a mathematician for three years and came here when the lab became functioning scientific support this year for CDCEC at Fort Ord. He has a bachelor's degree in mathematics from the University of California, Berkeley, where he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, also a master's degree from Harvard University, and obtained his doctorate in mathematical physics at the University of Paris. His career has included association with a computer consulting company working on the Apollo program and, in Los Angeles, with Philco Delmo Victor. Before his promotion to his present position, Dr. Besag was manager of the Litton mathematics and statistics section and will continue to carry this responsibility in addition to his new duties.

Rousing Comedy At Circle Theatre

by Duke Everts

We were royally entertained last Friday evening at the opening of "Any Wednesday," written by Muriel Resnik and currently being presented by the Golden Bough Players at the Circle Theatre. A rousing comedy in two acts, under the capable direction of Norman McPhee, it concerns a kept woman of 30, superbly protrayed by Marcia Rider, and her paramour, in the person of W. H. Scholefield. Since most "sugar daddies" have wives and since most kept girls don't wind u pmarrying their keepers, some lively laughter resounds throughout the theatre. Margaret Phillips is the wronged wife and Richard Schreibman is the boy who eventually gets the girl.

Marcia Rider, as Ellen Gordon, has a great flair for comedy. She is also an extremely attractive young woman and is most believable as a young lady in an "executive suite love-nest". Her rapid delivery of throw-away lines was especially appreciated. Her timing was perfect.

Richard Schreibman, as Cass Henderson, is a refreshing new face on the local theatre scene. He is a suave actor and gives a good, controlled performance. He showed a great deal of talent and we are sure to be seeing more of him in local productions At least, we hope so.

W. H. Scholefield, as John Cleves, the "sugar daddy," interprets his role perfectly. His every gesture, expression and movement is that of the stuffy executive. Old enough to know that he's going down hill, but still young enough to think that he's climbing.

Margaret Phillips as Dorothy Cleves, the "wronged wife" of John, walks in and walks off with the play whenever she is on. She gives her role a great deal of feeling and compassion. A handsome woman, Margaret is perfect for the part. Even in that "basic black" dress, she looked pretty good. It was difficult for us to understand how John Cleves could have made a choice. She received much applause from the audience after her every scene.

Norman McPhee once again showed his ability as a director. He has done an excellent job with the talent and also with the setting. With astute planning, he has arranged it so that every scene flowed.

The properties were handled by Katie Stoney without one error, and moving props in the dark at the Circle Theatre can be very difficult. Charles Richmond does the sound and lights and was late on only one blackout. Not a bad average for opening night.

The first and second nights were sold out and, without a doubt, every succeeding weekend will be the same, for it is a marvelous production. When word gets out that it is as good as it is, the Community Theatre should make a bundle from it, and we do mean in hard, cold cash. We urge you to get tickets early for "Any Wednesday" which will play Friday, Saturday and Sundays at 8:30 p.m. on coming weekends.

STUDIO PLAY

Jim Scott as Erronius converses with Mona Fletcher as Domina while Milton Hayes as Hysterium holds the formula for a love potion in "A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum," the current attraction at the Studio Theatre and Restaurant. The musical comedy hit will run Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays through January. Reservations for dinner and show or show only may be made by calling 624-1661 or 624-2321.

VILLAGE THEATRE

Shirley Maclaine plays the Eurasian beauty in Universal's romantic suspense technicolor thriller, "Gambit," now showing at Carmel's Village Theatre.

Eleanor Watson

Requiem mass was celebrated Saturday in San Carlos Catholic Church, Monterey, for Mrs. Eleanor Ewing Watson, a Carmel resident from 1925 until the late 1950s, who died in a Napa hospital December 28 after a long period of failing health.

A native of Maryland, she was born October 30, 1890.

For a number of years during her early residence here with her husband, the late Colonel Henry Lee Watson, and her children, she served as organist at the Carmel Mission. Gifted with a fine soprano voice, she also led the small choir there.

Mrs. Watson leaves two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Bagley of Los Altos and Mrs. Eleanor Boratynski of San Francisco; and a son, Charles H. Watson of Buena Park. Two other sons, Lee and Theodore, preceded her in death, the latter having been killed in action during World War II.

Burial took place in Monterey Catholic Cemetery. The Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Ice skates are mentioned in writings as early as the 10th century.

LINES FROM THE STUDIO

Who are we to dispute the accolades bestowed on the Studio production of "A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum" by critics and audiences alike? We are tempted to review our theatre dinner in similar vein: "Roast Beef is superb in the leading role at The Studio and draws well-deserved applause for an outstanding performance." "Corned Beef offers strong support in a part calling for flair and spice." Our problem is what to say about our magnificent Baked Ham without provoking raucous sallies from the other side of the footlights. Anyway, these are the three excellent entrees on the dinner you can enjoy prior to "A Funny Thing" each Friday, Saturday and Sunday during January. $6 covers both or $3 for show only.

Meet Ralph Frey, Jr., 19
He's a college junior.
He can read 3,000 words a minute.
He is not skimming.

Watching Ralph's hand fly over the pages (his hand acts as a pacer), you can't believe that he's actually reading. He must be skimming.

But he's not.

Ralph Frey can read the average novel in a little under 40 minutes. Once, while standing in a bookstore, he read three complete novels before he was asked to leave.

He studies between 1,500 to 2,000 words a minute, and rarely dips below 1,000 wpm, even on the toughest material.

Most significantly, however, is that he can comprehend and recall what he's read—right down to the details.

Ralph Frey is not a mental freak. Nor is he a naturally fast reader. He learned this revolutionary technique of rapid reading at the Evelyn Wood Reading Dynamics Institute. He is one of more than 17,000 graduates in Northern California.

Ralph was one of our better students. He started the course at about 400 words a minute and increased his rate 8 times. Our average student begins at about 300 words a minute and works up to speeds over 1,500 words a minute.

You can do this, too!

"Reading dynamically," says Ralph, "means that I can cover both the required and the suggested reading for a course during the first month of the semester. That leaves time for more extracurricular activities. On the weekend before an exam, I've reread several complete texts."

You may not learn to read quite as fast as Ralph Frey (and then again you might!), but the nationally known Reading Dynamics Institute guarantees that you'll at least triple your reading efficiency—or receive a full tuition refund. Reading efficiency combines rate and comprehension, not speed alone.

The technique of dynamic reading was discovered by a Utah schoolteacher.

Evelyn Wood first observed dynamic reading 18 years ago when a university professor read her term paper at an amazing 6,000 words a minute.

Mrs. Wood's curiosity caused her to look for other exceptional readers, and over the next few years, she found 50 people who could read faster than 1,500 words a minute, with fine comprehension, outstanding recall, and great reading satisfaction. She was now sure it was possible to read faster than anyone had thought, but the question of how was not yet answered. It took 8 years of toil and research, working with "natural" fast readers before she developed a technique whereby average students learn to read 3 to 10 times faster.

The first Reading Dynamics Institute was opened in Washington, D.C. in September, 1959. Since that time institutes have been opened in 63 cities throughout the country, and national enrollment for the course now tops 250,000.

No skimming techniques.

At a recent teacher training conference Mrs. Wood emphasized that dynamic reading is nothing like the skimming techniques commonly used in speed reading courses. "You read five times faster," she pointed out, "not by reading every fifth word, but by reading five times as many words in the same amount of time." Mrs. Wood emphasized that using her technique of rapid reading, every word on the page is read.

Money back guarantee

We guarantee to increase the reading efficiency of each student AT LEAST 3 times. We will refund the entire tuition to any student who, after completing minimum class and study requirements, does not at least triple his reading efficiency as measured by our beginning and ending tests. Reading efficiency combines rate and comprehension, not speed alone.

Father Of The Year?

The "Father of the Year" award, according to his charges, should be given to Walt Pilot, who chaperoned six Carmel High School senior girls for a five-day ski trip at Heavenly Valley. The snow conditions were excellent and by the end of the week, Torri Grindi, Pam Griswald, Diane Swift, Cindy Pilot, Vance Brooker and Sandy Bowman were able to control their skis like pros. Raymie Miller, they report, flashed by on skis, completely equipped with crash helmet and followed close behind by his sister, Tina.

Gov. Mark O. Hatfield delivered the commencement address and received an honorary doctor of letters degree.

Hawaii Welcomes Carmel's Dr. Berne

The Pine Cone's foreign correspondent in Hawaii, James C. Doud, has forwarded a picture and full page spread in the Honolulu Star-Bulletin on Carmel's Dr. Eric Berne, psychiatrist-author of "Games People Play," the record breaking nonfiction best seller.

Dr. Berne is pictured being presented with a gorgeous carnation lei on his arrival by Dr. Frances Cottington, director of Queen's Hospital Mental Health Clinic in Honolulu. He lectured last week at the hospital on his method of transactional analysis which was described, along with his book, in the Honolulu paper which also featured an interview with Dr. Berne, in which he was described as "looking like what Dr. Spock ought to look like."

PEBBLE BEACH WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. David Hall Keran were photographed as they left Erdman Memorial Chapel in Pebble Beach following their wedding on December 29. The Reverend Peter Farmer of All Saints' Episcopal Church read the eight o'clock candlelight service, which was preceded by a flute solo by a close friend, Miss Kem Buffo. Robert Peterson was at the organ.

The bride is the former Jamesan Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Albert Crawford of Pebble Beach. Escorted to the altar by her father, she was attired in a full length gown of white velvet, styled with an empire bodice and three-quarter length sleeves with white mink cuffs. The chapel length train fell from the high waistline. An open crown of seed pearls and satin ribbon held her four-tier English silk illusion veil and she carried a bouquet of white roses tied with olive green bow and streamers.

Mrs. John Ades, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. Miss Lee Ann Lund of Arcadia, the bride's college roommate, was maid of honor and Miss Maria Nunez de Villavicencio and Miss Barbara Kahr, both of Monterey, were bridesmaids.

The attendants were dressed alike in A-line silk worsted gowns in an olive green shade, made with high camisole bodices with wide scooped necklines and trumpet sleeves. Matching head bands were in their hair and they carried arm bouquets of chartreuse spider chrysanthemums tied with large white velvet bows.

Michael Lee Sorsky served as best man and groomsmen were the bride's brother, Frazier Crawford, Richard Magarian, and Brooks Wilson. Lloyd Gash and Christopher Clark seated the guests.

A reception was held at Del Monte Lodge where the rooms were decorated with Christmas greens and white chrysanthemums. The couple cut a many tiered wedding cake and were toasted in champagne.

The bride's mother greeted her guests in a floor length gown of ice pink peau de soie, the bodice embroidered in bugle beads. She wore orchids in her hair. Mrs. Edward J. Alstrom, mother of the bridegroom, was clad in a pale green silk sheath with a beaded bodice. Her flowers were roses.

Assisting at the reception were Susan Clark and Kem Buffo.

The bride, who is the sister of Frazier Crawford of Pebble Beach, graduated from Monterey High School and is currently a junior at California State Polytechnic College.

Mr. Keran, son of Mrs. Edward J. Alstrom of Fresno and the late Francis H. Keran, graduated from Bullard High School in Fresno and is a senior at Cal Poly. John K. Alstrom and Charles Alstrom of Fresno are his stepbrothers. David's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Trevorrow and Mrs. Ida Mathilda Bruce, all of Berkeley, attended the event.

After a honeymoon trip to an undisclosed destination, the newlywed couple will return to San Luis Obispo to complete their education.

Appointment Recommended

Hartley Fiske Dewey, a student at William and Mary College in Virginia, is one of the candidates for admission to the Air Force Academy selected by U. S. Senator Thomas H. Kuchel. The California nominations were based on performance in U. S. Civil Service Commission academic examinations and final selections will be made at the nation's four service academies.

The candidate is the son of Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. Hartley C. Dewey of Newport News, Virginia, and Pebble Beach, and the grandson of the late Dr. and Mrs. Hartley G. Dewey of Pebble Beach and Carmel.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT

The engagement of Katherine Anne Stoney to Lieutenant Richard Barry Schreibman was announced at a family gathering Christmas Eve at the home of the future bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Stoney of Carmel. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schreibman of New York City, who were here for the holidays to visit their son, were present to offer their felicitations, as were, also, Katherine's brother, Lee, and her grandmother, Mrs. William Havenar of Carmel.

Katherine, who graduated from Sunset and Carmel High schools, is in her second year at Monterey Peninsula College. Both she and her fiance are active in little theatre work in the community.

Lieutenant Schreibman, a graduate of Hofstra University in New York, is serving with the Army Reserve at Fort Ord and Hunter Liggett.

The couple plans to be married after Lieutenant Schreibman has completed his military service about a year from now.

French Attache To Speak

Henry Monteagle, recently appointed French Cultural Attache in San Francisco, will speak on the history of French Provence at the Carmel Art Association Gallery on Sunday at 8 p.m. The event is sponsored by l'Alliance Francaise of the Monterey Peninsula, which will hold a "fete" of "Les Trois Rois," or Epiphany, after the lecture. Although open to the public, non-members of l'Alliance will be asked to make a small donation to the organization's scholarship fund.

Mr. Monteagle, of Scotch descent, has taught diplomacy at the University of Edinburgh and spent three years in Cambodia in cultural activities.

Before Mr. Monteagle's lecture, the French official, his wife and daughter will be honored with a small dinner party sponsored by l'Alliance Co-Presidents Mrs. Jerome Carlson and Mrs. James Hathaway, also immediate members of the board of governors of the local chapter.

(See this edition of Party Plans for two recipes of excellent French Provencal dishes printed in honor of Mr. Monteagle's talk on Provence.)

Civilian Life For Chris

Within a short time, Chris Rose will return to civilian life after having served four years in the U. S. Coast Guard. His most recent duty has been aboard the USCG Cutter Ivy, out of Astoria, Oregon. Chris and his wife, Thelma, who were married in Astoria early in 1966, will remain in that city until his future plans "jell."

The young couple was here last summer to visit Chris' mother, Mrs. Virginia Rose, and his brothers, Wade and Penn.

NPGS Student Tour

As part of a defense department program to give foreign students a better understanding of the U. S., 27 from the Naval Postgraduate School, representing 13 navies, visited Washington, D. C. and New York City last month. Commander George Fairbanks of Carmel was one of the Naval officers leading the group, which visited such points of interests as the White House, the Capital, Library of Congress and the Smithsonian Institution.

Gift Of Land In Highlands Made To People Of Monterey Peninsula

A Christmas gift by N. J. D'Ambrogio to the Monterey County Foundation for Conservation for the benefit of the Monterey Peninsula community is 30 acres of pine-covered scenic slopes on Mt. Devon in Carmel Highlands. The foundation, formerly known as the Monterey County Council for Conservation and Planning, plans to preserve the property as an area of natural beauty.

D'Ambrogio, a founding member of the MCFC and a 16-year Peninsula resident, commented, "I am glad to do my part to help preserve this lovely Peninsula as one of the most beautiful places in the world. The slopes of Mt. Devon can be seen by everyone who drives on the Coast Route. Through this donation the mountain face can be kept in its pine-forested natural state for the enjoyment of all who pass."

Mt. Devon, named for J. F. Devendorf, one of the founders of Carmel and Carmel Highlands, was the last parcel of land acquired by Ada Howe Kent for Kent Manor. It was purchased in order to protect the beautiful hills she loved so much to view. D'Ambrogio acquired Kent Manor in 1950.

Natural features of the land include a cluster of redwoods nestled on the creek bank at the mountain's base, patches of wild rhododendrons near its crest, and a magnificent stand of Monterey Pine on its face.

In accepting the gift on behalf of the Foundation, Dudley Swim, president, stated, "The foundation is proud to receive Mr. D'Ambrogio's donation and lauds the way he has proceeded without solicitation and on his own initiative to give so generously of his own property in the cause of preserving the beauty of the Monterey Peninsula.

"These beautiful slopes can now be protected from the possible ravages of any future subdividing and preserved as a scenic area. This magnanimous move by Mr. D'Amabrogio is a particularly fortunate development at this time, for others of our members who own nearby scenic property are considering private measures for likewise preserving the natural beauty of their lands.

Thomson J. Hudson, county supervisor from the Peninsula, has been a prime mover, along with Stuyvesant Fish and Bruno and Emilio Odello, in developing the Three Ranches Conservation Plan for nearby Point Lobos Ranch, Palo Corona Ranch, and Rancho Odello, their respective family properties.

"Here, in the gift of the Mt. Devon property, is a magnificent demonstration of conservation through individual initiative, private generosity, and quiet action in the spirit of neighborly responsibility. This is in refreshing contrast to something we are fast leaving behind in our community, namely drumbeating for coercion through governmental action, and for 'giving' of other people's money and property rather than of one's own.

"Here is Mr. D'Ambrogio's gift we have not words but a noble deed."

Famous Architect Auxiliary Speaker

Edward Durell Stone, an architect so famous he once appeared on the cover of Time magazine, will be the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the Auxiliary of Community Hospital.

The luncheon meeting will be held at noon on Monday at the Monterey Peninsula Country Club.

At the invitation of Mrs. Robert Stanton, program chairman, Stone agreed to be guest speaker at the luncheon. He was the architect for the hospital.

During the meeting, Mrs. Charles French will be installed as president of the auxiliary, succeeding Mrs. Lucile Isaacson. The auxiliary now has 270 active and 760 associate members.

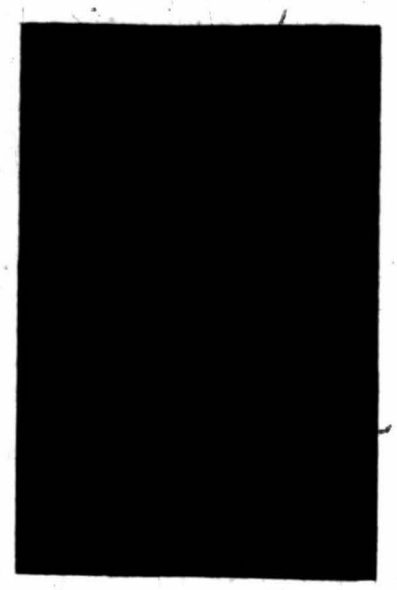
MPC REGISTRATION OFFERED BY MAIL

Evening students will register primarily by mail for Spring semester courses at Monterey Peninsula College, MPC Evening Dean Keith Merrill announces.

The process has been designed to simplify registration procedures as much as possible. "It is hoped that applicants will take advantage of this method and avoid the last-minute rush," Dr. Merrill said.

Application blanks are contained in brochures listing 100 evening classes to be offered at MPC February 6 to June 16. These blanks, with checks or money orders for fees, must be filled out and returned to the college by January 20. Brochures have been mailed to all current evening students and are available to others at the college administration building.



EXECUTIVE

William H. Godwin, Jr. of Carmel has become an account executive in the Salinas office of Walston & Co., Inc., Dennis Radford, resident manager, announces. Walston, one of the nation's largest securities firms, serves investors through 93 offices coast to coast and overseas.

The new Walston account executive is a member of the Carmel Planning Commission, Carmel Lions Club, the public relations committee of the Heart Association, and the Monterey Peninsula Hotel Association. He is married, and he and his wife, Joan, have two children.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

When will our society awake to its need for moral reform? The rallying call, "Let us search and try our ways, and turn again to the Lord," made centuries ago by Jeremiah, famed prophet of the Bible, will be received in Christian Science churches this Sunday.

"Sacrament," the subject of Sunday's Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches, will point out important human footsteps leading to moral awakening. The following excerpt, included in the lesson, is from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "One's aim, a point beyond faith, should be to find the footsteps of Truth, the way to health and holiness. We should strive to reach the Horeb height where God is revealed; and the corner-stone of all spiritual building is purity." (Pg. 241:23)

RADIO PROGRAM

"Getting at the Root of the Drinking Problem" is the title of the radio program to be heard this Sunday over station KGO at 7:30 a.m. and station KDON at 8:45 a.m. on the Christian Science radio series "The Bible Speaks to You." A frank discussion will be heard telling of spiritual means by which many have been healed of this social plague.

ROSE CUTTINGS SUNDAY AT SAN ANTONIO MISSION

At Mission San Antonio near Jolon, cuttings from rose bushes in the garden maintained by Franciscan brothers will be given free to visitors starting at 2 p.m. With 35 species of roses in the mission garden, rose fanciers are assured of a large variety from which to choose.

What s Going on Here?

CARMEL FOUNDATION
Town House

On Wednesday of last week, the Carmel Foundation held Open House at Town House on Lincoln Street. Light refreshments were served as 50 people attended the afternoon program.

Mrs. Olive Walker reports that 42 people attended the Christmas day dinner and program. Santa Claus arrived distributing presents to everyone in attendance.

Monthly Luncheon — Please make your reservation for the monthly luncheon on Monday at noon ($1). Monthly Exhibit—oils and water colors by Mrs. Anne Carlson. New Class schedules will be published this month.

Wednesday Programs—On January 11 at 3 p.m. Donald Pine of the State Department of Fish and Game will show slides and give a talk on "Water Associated Birds."

CARMEL VALLEY MANOR

Through the Canadian Eskimo Art Committee an exhibit of Eskimo prints is now hanging in the Gallery at the Manor. These prints are the work of Eskimos at Cape Dorset and Povunguitak on the east coast of Hudson Bay.

The prints (limited editions) have been made from flattened and polished stone incised or carved in low relief and inked. The photographs of landscapes point up the Eskimos' portrayal of their surroundings and make an interesting comparison with prints. Background and material objects are of little concern to the Eskimos. They reserve their strength and abilities to deal with living things. Penetrating concentration on a single image is the very heart of their art. They have a way of isolating the image or images from one another in space, giving each its own special importance. Eskimos have always been directly concerned with the endless struggle for existence. Their powerful depiction of animal and human forms speak boldly of flesh and blood and bone, moving in a rhythm and pattern that is perfectly understood by them for they are hunters.

These prints and photographs are for sale. Visitors are welcome to view this exhibit in the Gallery.

FOREST HILL MANOR

At the Gate of the Year—I said to the man who stood at the Gate of the Year, "Give me a light, that I may tread safely into the unknown." And he replied, "Go out into the darkness and put thine hand into the hand of God. That shall be to thee better than light, and safer than any known way."

—J. L. Haskins

An interesting ritual is observed at the Manor every month. One night a month the chef bakes and officiates at the serving of a huge birthday cake for those residents whose birthdays have occurred that month. Everyone in the dining room enjoys the ceremony (also the cake). The honored ones receive their piece of cake with a lighted candle on top.

CANTERBURY WOODS

A program of fun was successfully carried off New Year's Eve at the Dinner Hour at Canterbury Woods which gave a pleasant farewell to the Old Year. Mrs. Bell and Mr. Johnson presided at the festivities.

PINPOINT PROFILE
Carmel Seniors Club

Every morning at Forest Hill Park, situated at Second and Junipero Avenues, one will find "the boys" skillfully playing their favorite game — shuffleboard. The "boys," some of whom are in their late 70s and 80s comprise the Carmel Seniors Club which was organized in July, 1961.

The "guiding light" and founder, Don Neher, told me how this interesting pastime got its start under the guidance of the Hi-12 Club project chairman, Don Neher, in 1961, as the major Hi-12 Fun project for that year.

At first members played shuffleboard in the rear of Carmel Foundation Town House, on one court.

Since the membership began to spiral, they finally persuaded the City of Carmel to build two courts in Forest Hill Park and, through the efforts of these people, the courts were completed. The cement work and building material was donated by the Carmel Rotary Club. All the labor for constructing the fence and the club house was furnished by members of the Hi-12 Club. The operating equipment was provided by the Hi-12, Kiwanis and Lions clubs. The blackboards and benches were donated by the Carmel School District.

The result was a very worthwhile community project. A generous anonymous donor supplied the Seniors with a third court in 1954.

This year's president, Rolf K. Evans, has a full corps of officers to assist him. The club is run on a businesslike basis. Entrance fee is $5. Yearly dues are also $5 to help keep up the supplies and equipment.

Anyone in Carmel or vicinity 65 years old or older may join. Playing hours are from 9 a.m. till noon, daily except Sunday. Phone 624-9945 for information. The welcome mat is out! Come and join, or just come and watch! Shuffleboard not only provides mild exercise but also good fellowship with a fine group of men.

Don Neher, former owner of a Ford Agency in Oakland, retired 16 years ago and came to live in Carmel. It was he who recognized the need for a game, such as shuffleboard, for other retired men looking for outdoor exercise without too much effort. This proved to be the right answer as the following roster of members will affirm.

Von C. Baker, Chas. Biery, Harold Bond, Walter D. Brook, Art E. Caldwell, L. D. Castle, F. Norm Crane, William R. Duncan, Rolf K. Evans, Al Elkinton, Dick Goodspeed, Dr. Bob Hoffman, August Johnson, Harold J. Kehm, Peter Kutschera, John Leonard, Earl L. Moser, A. G. Mott, A. Roy Myers, Don Neher, Eugene Nissen.

REPORTS FROM RLS

By Chandler Meloy

COMMITTEE PROGRAM VITAL TO STUDENT LIFE

A strong committee program is the key to success in our organized society. Under the direction of Student President Larry Kuechler, Stevenson student government has been most effective because of the well organized and hard working committee officers and members.

In addition to the student council committees, there is also a class organization that includes dorm committees (Common Room, Gardening), special project committees (Junior-Senior Prom) and special event committees (Community Chest, etc.)

All these student-run activities require a great many conscientious leaders, both among the students and the counselors.

President Kuechler has kept a close watch on the various committee chairmen and their workers. Regular reports are made to the student council, and a summary of their activities is periodically published (incidentally, if you should want a copy of these reports, they may be obtained by writing to Project Chairman, John Cann, in care of the Student Council, R.L.S.)

A few of the committees and their chairmen include:

Public Relations and Information Committee: Chairman Will Haas directs a staff of writers, artists and newsmen who prepare posters, keep the bulletin boards up to date, write articles for the local newspapers, and handle projects like the "Parents' Day Welcome" posters. Special mention should be made of newsmen Phil Fleming and Barry Nathan and artists Dan Giustina and Pierre LaLande.

Assembly Committee: Bruce Wileman prepares a weekly schedule of student and faculty speakers, with topics ranging from "What Collete?" to "LSD-Wild and Harmful"

Monitor Council: A group of ten seniors who assist in running the campus, proctoring study halls, organizing the flag ceremony, and other special assignments as needed under the direction of Pete Stremmel.

Vespers Committee: Under the chairmanship of Bruce Decker, with the able help of Joe Harris, Jeff Klein, John Cann and Mike Greene, this group sets up the weekly Vespers program, invites the speakers and selects hymns and bible readings.

Rally Commission: With Kirk Barr leading, this active campus unit sets up athletic rallies and skits. (Many of the skits would give Richard Burton fits).

Then there are special committees not so much standing committees, but with directed duties: The Newspaper staff is one of them, with many working on this project including Nick Giustina, Phil Fleming, Joe Arsenio, Terry Talbot, and Taylor Grant, among others.

The fire commissioner, Fred Manning, has a fire chief in each dorm, and is responsible for quick and speedy egress during fire drills, plus roll taking and communication in emergency.

While there are many others, these few indicate the scope of organization that students participate in, and are responsible for. Their fine performance is tribute to the effective leadership the chairmen are able to exert.

Coming next week: Basketball resumes, with games on Friday and Tuesday in CAA competition, plus the debate team takes off for Seaside on Saturday for a PFL tournament.

Letter To Editor

Editor,
Carmel Pine Cone

If what we hear from friends returning from Carmel is true, that the big hotel interests are trying to abolish the little home lodging-room keepers, we, as great lovers of Carmel, would like to express our disappointment. It is natural that the hotel owners wish to make as large a return as possible on their investments, but in shutting out the little lodging house owner they are shutting out a great many people who go to Carmel, not only because they love Point Lobos and Moss Landing and a certain pond which is a bird-watchers paradise, but also because they have grown very fond of some dear old soul who has told them where to get the best value for their time and money. Carmel has a lot to thank these "oldtimers" for, and instead of trying to oust them, should give them every encouragement.

Birdwatchers may not be big spenders but we get mighty hungry out there in the fresh air and really enjoy the meals in all those wonderful Carmel restaurants, and are looking forward to another visit next Spring.

Very truly yours,
L. N. Precious,
Vancouver,
British Columbia

Editor,
Carmel Pine Cone

The Board of Trustees of the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art would like to express to you its deep gratitude for your most kind cooperation on providing us with the publicity so vital to the success of our recent Christmas Creations Show. To make such a show a reality requires a vast amount of planning, hard work, and devotion above and beyond the call of duty. All of this would be useless without the interest and help of the news media, and for this we thank you very much.

Sincerely yours,
Marian P. Messier,
Corresponding Secretary

Art News . . .

Lenore Wollams is conducting a series of eight lessons in sculpture at the New Monterey Neighborhood Center. The first class was held on Tuesday afternoon. Instruction in clay modelling for casting or firing is given by Miss Woolams who also stresses design based on natural forms. Further information may be obtained by telephoning 372-8121, Extension 85.

During January, oils and watercolors by Anne Carlson are being shown at Carmel Foundation's Town House on Lincoln at Eighth. Mrs. Carlson came here to live permanently 18 months ago. Her home is in Rancho Rio Vista. She was an art major at the University of California which granted her a bachelor's degree in 1924. She also has studied under R. Brackman, N. A., Ed Whitney, Nan Greacen, N. A. Kinham, N. A., Ed Ward and Les Bentley. Her professional associations include memberships in the Hudson Valley Art Association, Scarsdale Art Association, National Artists Professional League and the National League of American Penwomen.

Anne Carlson has exhibited at the National Academy of Design, Allied Artists of America, Pen and Brush Club, all of New York, also with the Ogunquit, Maine, and Westchester County women's clubs, the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D. C. and the Pacific Grove watercolor show. She had a one-man show at the White Plains Women's Club in New York.

Awards won by Mrs. Carlson include a second in graphics at the Monterey County fair, finalist with the National League of American Penwomen show at the Smithsonian and various other awards in exhibitions in New York, Dobbs Ferry, Larchmont, Rye, New Rochelle, Scarsdale, Mount Vernon and Port Chester.

Entry forms are due January 10 for California Crafts V, sponsored by the Creative Arts League of Sacramento with the cooperation of E. B. Crocker Art Gallery. Work must be delivered to the gallery between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. on January 13 and 14. All shipped entries must be received prepaid at the gallery before January 13.

This fifth statewide biennial crafts exhibition is open to California crafts artists between the ages of 18 and 30 (born between March 17, 1949 and March 16, 1936).

Judging will be done by Eudorah M. Moore and cash and purchase awards up to $100 each will be given winning entries. The exhibition will take place from March 17 through April 23.

G. M. McFarland

Funeral services for Gilbert Miller McFarland, who died in a Salinas hospital December 21 after a brief illness, were held in Salinas Tuesday, followed by burial in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

Mr. McFarland, 67, was a native of Ogden, Utah, and has made his home in Carmel for the past 38 years.

An Army veteran of World War I, he was a retired automobile salesman. He was a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Pacific Grove.

Mr. McFarland leaves his wife, Maria, of Carmel; a son, Eugene G. McFarland of Larkspur; and two grandchildren.

Friends wishing to make memorial contributions may do so to the charities of their choice.

Mary Erdle

Requiem mass was celebrated Tuesday at Carmel Mission Basilica for Mrs. Mary G. Erdle, who died December 27, after a brief illness, while visiting in Palm Springs.

A Carmel resident for the past six months, Mrs. Erdle was born in Providence, Rhode Island, September 2, 1921.

Surviving are her husband, Louis Vincent Erdle, two daughters, Wendy and Elizabeth Ann, and a son, Christopher, all of Carmel; a son by a former marriage, Harry W. Wegerforth of La Jolla; her mother, Mrs. Mildred Gwinn of Dearborn, Michigan; and a brother, Joseph Mar Gwinn of Weston, Massachusetts.

Burial took place in Mission Memorial Park. The Mission Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Nancy Ewing

Funeral services will be held Saturday in Alexandria, Virginia, for Nancy Belle Ewing, only daughter of Dr. Joseph M. Ewing, former pastor of the Carmel Presbyterian Church, and Mrs. Ewing, now residents of Paoli, Pennsylvania. Miss Ewing died suddenly at her desk in Washington, D. C., where she was executive field director of the Girl Scouts of America, also served as project director of Howard University.

A graduate of the University of California, she was a frequent visitor during the years her parents made their home in Carmel. Miss Ewing also attended Westminster College in Salt Lake City and earned a masters degree in social work from the University of Pennsylvania.

Friends wishing to make contributions in her memory may do so to the Carmel Presbyterian Foundation Trust Fund, Box 846, Carmel, to be used as directed by Dr. and Mrs. Ewing.

CAR REGISTRATION FOR 1967

Vehicle registration for 1967 commenced this week throughout the state in field offices of the department of motor vehicles.

The deadline for payment of the annual fees is February 6.

On payment of fees each applicant will receive a blue sticker for 1967 renewal of his license plates, to be affixed to the upper left hand corner of the rear plate.

SEAFOODS WITH A FRENCH ACCENT

Now that we are traveling to France, let's put the accent on cuisine a la Francaise. Instead of the recent rich meats we've been feasting on during the holidays, it will be refreshing to serve some of California's own fresh fish and seafood. As Julia Child (TV's French Chef) says, it is almost impossible to converse about any cooking without using the French language! French sauces may pose a problem to those unfamiliar with this parlance, but with a simple translation these are easily understood.

An impressive name such as Coquille St. Jacques au Gratin is simply scallops with a crust, generally of cheese and bread-crumbs. The word Duglere refers to the use of garlic-tomato sauce, frequently containing white wine, Remoulade is basically mayonnaise flavored with mustard, dill pickles or lemon juice. Bordelaise means Bordeaux style, a rich brown sauce with wine and a mixture of finely chopped onion, carrot and celery, with butter, thyme and bay leaf.

The Frenchman knows how necessary a good sauce is to emphasize flavor and add that special touch which makes for superb eating. He knows too, that sauces and fish have an affinity for one another. By combining the basic methods of fish cookery (baking, poaching, broiling, sauteeing and steaming) with such subtle sauces, you will have a repertoire of seafood specialties ready to turn you into another sought-after French chef.

Coquille St. Jacques Au Gratin
(Scallops with Cheese-Breadcrumb Topping)

One lb. scallops, fresh or frozen; 1 onion and 1 green pepper, chopped; 6 stalks celery sliced; 6 large mushrooms, sliced; 2 tbsps. butter; 1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup; salt, paprika, nutmeg; lemon juice; grated Gruyere (or Swiss) cheese; breadcrumbs. (packaged herb-flavored stuffing is fine).

If scallops are large, cut into bite-sized pieces, but not tiny. Saute vegetables in butter, add scallops and cook gently a few minutes.. Mix cream of mushroom soup with paprika, nutmeg and lemon juice. Pour this American-style but French-inspired sauce over scallop mixture, tasting for salt before adding; mix carefully. Then spoon everything into heat-proof dish, cover with a generous layer of grated cheese and top with buttered breadcrumbs. Bake in 350 F. oven about 30 minutes or until golden brown. This may be prepared ahead of time, refrigerated or frozen until ready to bake. Serves 6.

Golden Fish with Remoulade Sauce

Six swordfish or sole fillets or steaks, fresh or frozen; 3/4 cup mayonnaise; ¼ cup prepared mustard; 1 clove garlic put through press; ¼ cup minced onion; ⅛ tsp. sugar; salt and freshly ground pepper to taste; ½ tsp. prepared horseradish; ¼ tsp. celery seed; 1 tbsp. lemon juice; 1 tbsp. capers; dill weed.

Make sauce from all ingredients excepting the fish. Serve hot over sauteed fillets. Garnish hot platter with fresh dill weed (if not obtainable, use parsley or watercress) and lemon quarters. Serves 6.

Poisson a la Bordelaise
(Fish Bordelaise)

Three lbs. firm white fish fillets such as trout or flounder or any non-oily fish; 3 tbsps. butter; 1 carrot and onion, each minced; 1 garlic clove put through press; parsley, thyme; bay leaf, salt to taste; ¼ cup cognac; ½ cup dry white wine; 1 tsp. cornstarch; chopped parsley; lemon quarters; paprika.

Make a sauce of ingredients, excepting fish. Cook slowly until vegetables are just soft. Add fish, salt, wines. Cook quickly about 10 minutes or until fish is tender and flaky but not overdone . . never "limp". Remove fillets carefully to hot herving platter. Discard bay leaf. Cook liquid in pan until reduced to half its original quantity, then add beurre manie (creamy butter) made by creaming butter and flour together. Cook sauce until blended but never even slightly scorched, so it is best to do this in a double boiler. Pour hot over fish. Garnish with lemon quarters rolled in minced parsley and paprika. This is also excellent prepared with broiled shrimp or lobster tails. Serves 6.

Ratatoullie
(Serves 6)

One eggplant, peeled and cut in 3-inch strips, ½ inch thick; 2 zucchini, cut in ½-inch slices; ½ cup pure virgin olive oil (must be 100% quality and unused); 2 yellow onions and 2 green peppers (smallish) thinly sliced; 2 garlic cloves, minced; 1 cup sliced pimiento-stuffed olives; chopped parsley; salt and pepper to taste.

Combine eggplant and unpeeled zucchini with salt to taste; let stand 30 minutes in pottery or pyrex bowl. Drain and dry with paper towel. In large skillet saute these strips in heated oil about one minute on each side or until very lightly browned, not burned, so take care! Remove and set aside on paper towels as they brown. In same skillet, saute onions and peppers in remaining oil until just tender, stir in garlic. Place tomato strips on top; cook uncovered 5 minutes. Gently stir in vegetables. Taste for salt and pepper. Simmer, covered, for 20 minutes. Uncover and cook over very low heat 5 minutes longer. Baste with juices from bottom of pan. Excellent if kept hot over electric warmer. But this is also admired cold by real connoisseurs, which makes it easier on the hostess-cook.

Scalloped Potatoes Provencales
(Serves 6)

Two cups sliced onions; ¼ cup olive oil (use oil from anchovies, if desired); 2 garlic cloves, put through press; 6 anchovy fillets, mashed; ¼ tsp. each, basil, thyme leaves; freshly grated pepper to taste; ½ cup pimiento-stuffed olives, sliced; 2 lbs. firm tomatoes, peeled, halved and thinly sliced; 2 lbs. potatoes, pared and cut into ⅛-inch slices (about 6 cups); grated Parmesan cheese.

Cook onion in oil in large heavy skillet until tender (do not allow to brown). Remove from heat, stir in garlic, anchovies, herbs and pepper. Add olives and tomatoes; mix lightly. Layer tomato mixture and sliced potatoes in shallow 2-qt. baking dish; beginning and ending with tomato mixture. Sprinkle with cheese. Cover loosely and bake in 400 F. oven for one hour. Uncover and continue baking 20 minutes longer, or until potatoes are fork tender but not broken up.

These are un-Parisian dishes but stem from historic Provencal and are hearty-wholesome. "Bon appetit," as famous Julia Child would say!

Colonel Ringland

Private services were held Friday in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno, for Colonel Frank Glenister Ringland (USA ret), who died in a Palo Alto hospital December 26 at the age of 76. With his wife, Clare, he had made his home in Carmel since 1947.

Colonel Ringland, born in Montclair, New Jersey, June 29, 1890, attended Montclair Military Academy and the University of New Mexico before beginning his career with the Army cavalry. During the Mexican border "incidents" of 1916, he participated in the pursuit of Pancho Villa. From 1927-30, he was a squadron commander in the 11th Cavalry at the Presidio of Monterey and, in World War II, served in the 12th Army Group under General Omar Bradley. He retired here in 1947 with disabilities received in Germany after World War II.

In addition to his wife, Colonel Ringland is survived by a stepson Superior Court Judge Robert J. Drewes of San Francisco; two sisters, Grace Ringland of Montclair, New Jersey, and Mrs. George W. Moores of Pensacola, Florida; and a brother, Arthur C. Ringland of Chevy Chase, Maryland, a former director of Foreign aid in the U. S. State Department who was also instrumental in establishing the CARE program.

Mrs. White

Private services for Mrs. Cassendra Chandlee White were held Tuesday in the Mission Mortuary, Monterey. Mrs. White, 87, died Monday at her home at Lincoln and Tenth after an extended illness.

A native of New York City, where she was born November 23, 1879, she had made her home in Carmel with her husband, George H. White, for the past 12 years.

In addition to her husband, she leaves two sons, Edwin Chandlee White of Rock Hills, South Carolina, and George H. White Jr. of La Porte, Texas.

3 BEDROOMS IN CARMEL FOR $22,500!

Sounds impossible? It does, but we have a 3-bedroom, 1-bath house (with garage) in La Loma Terrace, on Guadalupe near Pico. At $22,500, you'd probably expect a shack, but this is a very sound house structurally, and it's in reasonably good general condition. We can show it any time.

SPECTACULAR OCEAN VIEW

Also a SPECTACULAR VALLEY VIEW, from this MOST ATTRACTIVE, 2-bedroom, 2-bath home practically at the top of Rancho Rio Vista. Family room with fireplace, SEPARATE DINING ROOM, double carport, large bedrooms, small den—really a choice property. $89,500. Exclusive.

SOUTH OF OCEAN—3 BEDROOMS—$27,500.

In the preferred "South of Ocean Ave.," Carmel, location. A beamed ceiling, 3 bedroom, 2 bath home with Carmel-stone fireplace. Full price, $27,500. Exclusive.

CARMEL WOODS LOT—$11,000

60' x 135' on north Dolores. It isn't level, but it's cheap. If you like, the owner, who has been transferred, will throw in a custom set of plans for a 4-bedroom, 3 bath house.

MISSION FIELDS—3 BEDROOMS—LOW DOWN PAYMENT

In popular Mission Fields—clean 3 bedrooms, den, 2 baths, large fenced yard, at the end of a dead-end street. AND, best of all, it can be bought for 10% down, or less. Full price $29,850.

CARMEL—2 BEDROOMS—PRIVATE—$29,500

A beautiful 2-car garage and a large paved patio go with this approx. 10 year old 2 bedroom, 1 bath, beamed ceiling living room home. A fine home at $29,500. Exclusive.

IT'S LATER THAN WE THOUGHT:
ALMOST TIME FOR THE "CROSBY" AGAIN!

And the "Crosby" means one of the best times of the year for selling weekenders and part-time homes! Unfortunately, our supply of available properties which fit these requirements is very low right now, particularly in Carmel proper. Does your house have one or two bedrooms? Is it within walking distance of Carmel and the beach? Will it fall into the price range of $25,000 to $45,000? Is your landscaping easy to maintain? Do you want to sell? If so, this may be your last really good opportunity until Easter Vacation. Why don't you give us a ring? No obligation to discuss the idea.

IN OUR OPINION this picturesque home presents one of the most inspiring views in this area . . . truly a "picture post card" inspirational setting of the Mission Hills and Point Lobos in the background and the warm, red tiles of the Mission roof in the foreground. Comstock-type in interior design and detail, this charming residence offers many of those desirable qualities . . . delightful courtyard entry, a Dutch door, random-width oak floors, coved ceilings, wide sills and a pleasing outlook from every room. Two bedrooms, a small den, two baths and a kitchen with a dining corner and a view window. Outdoor enjoyment is achieved by two separate patios with different exposures. Two car garage plus excellent storage area. By appointment, one my inspect this choice residential property and appreciate its happy combination of location and appealing atmosphere.

HOME WITH INCOME UNIT: Built on two levels with privacy for two occupants, this modern home represents good value at its listing price of $39,850. Built three years ago, the property comprises a main unit with kitchen (built-in units), living room, two bedrooms and two baths; second unit with living room, bedroom and bath. Rental return on one unit is now $125 per month. A prime feature is the expansive view from both levels . . . Pescadero Point to Point Lobos!

IDEAL LOCATION SOUTH OF OCEAN AVENUE for this VERY COMFORTABLE home . . . three bedrooms(or two and a den), two baths, living room with a distant view of Point Lobos, a lanai-dining room opening to a sheltered patio, kitchen with electric range and refrigerator and a landscaped minimum-care garden. Level walking to the village; a short walk to the beach. Out-of-town owner will consider reasonable offer.

TO SETTLE AN ESTATE: Newly painted and with a desirable corner location, this comfortable home is listed at $26,500. Two bedrooms, large living room with fireplace, separate dining room with patio access, kitchen and laundry room, and two-car garage.

DID YOU KNOW that Byron Nelson holds the All Time PGA Record for the most consecutive wins? He won 11 straight tournaments in 1945. In this same year Nelson also established a record for the most wins in one year by winning 19 tournaments.

Virginia Drown

Funeral services for Virginia N. Drown, 82, of Carmel Valley Manor, were held Friday at Cypress Lawn Memorial Park Chapel in Colma, with the Reverend Spencer Rice of St. Luke's Episcopal Church of San Francisco officiating. Miss Drown was killed December 22 in a collision between her auto and a truck-trailer at the entrance of the Carmel Rancho Shopping Center.

Miss Drown, born in San Francisco June 2, 1884, was a resident of that city before coming to make her home in Carmel Valley in June, 1964.

She leaves two nieces, Mrs. Harry L. Baker Jr. and Mrs. Jerd Sullivan of San Francisco.

Contributions in memory of Miss Drown are preferred to St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Van Ness and Clay, San Francisco.

The Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Woman's Club To Hear Art Authority

Dr. Richard McLanathan, a distinguished authority on the fine arts whose broad knowledge of his subject has appeal for both the layman and the connoisseur, will speak before the Carmel Woman's Club on Monday at 2 p.m.

One of the original members of the New York State Council on the Arts, Dr. McLanathan now serves as art consultant to that council and other nationally known organizations. He is the author of numerous articles and several books, among them the recently published "Images of the Universe," a discussion of the life and work of Leonardo da Vinci. In addition to serving in various capacities on the staff of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts and as director of the Museum of Art in Utica, he was curator of the exhibit at the American National Exhibition in Moscow and toured art centers in several European countries as a representative of the U. S. State Department. Dr. McLanathan is in demand as an art specialist on both radio and television.

He received his A.B. degree, also his Ph.D., from Harvard University with a brilliant scholastic record which brought his election to Harvard's distinguished Society of Fellows.

Hostesses at Monday's meeting will be Mrs. Willis H. Potter and Mrs. John N. Cooper. Mrs. H. J. Stamm, Mrs. G. H. Weatherbe and Mrs. Harry Wingard will preside at the tea tables.

Flora Hoffman

Private services for Mrs. Flora B. Hoffman, 85, were held Saturday at the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea, Pacific Grove. Mrs. Hoffman, a Carmel resident for many years, died Friday in a Peninsula nursing home after a lengthy illness.

A native of San Francisco, where she was born April 29, 1881, she was the widow of the late Dr. J. C. Hoffman.

Surviving are three sons, Bowley Hoffman of Carmel, De Bremond Hoffman of Tucson, Arizona, and Dr. Theodore Hoffman of Temple Terrace, Florida; a daughter, Mrs. Shirley Lawrence of Pound Ridge, New York; seven grandchildren and a great-granddaughter.

The Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Fund Raising Talk

worth $100 or more, which have been donated by local business people, industrialists and organizations.

Mr. Friedlander, who is familiar with the Monterey area believes something similar could be done here. The Arts Coordinating Council of Monterey County is sponsoring his visit and invites all interested persons to attend the meeting on Monday and hear his ideas on how such a project might be carried out in this area.

AUDUBON SOCIETY MEETING

The January general meeting of the Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society will be held in the music room at Carmel High School on January 13 at 8 p.m. Dr. Ronald Branson will give a talk on rare and unusual birds sighted in Monterey County during the past five years. A business meeting and social hour will follow his talk.
